If these Lands are let

The Helder, North Holland,
Sept. 14. 1799.

SIR,
I have to acquaint you with my arrival at this place yesterday evening, having failed from Deal on board the Amethyst frigate on Monday morning the 9th inst. Upon coming on shore I had great satisfaction in witnessing the disembarkation of eight battalions of Russian auxiliary troops, consisting of 7000 men, under the command of Lieutenant-General D'Hermann, which had arrived from Revel in the course of the preceding day and yesterday morning. I afterwards saw these troops upon their march towards the position occupied by the British near Schagen; and I have great pleasure in assuring you that, from their appearance in every respect, the most happy consequences may be expected from their co-operation with his Majesty's arms in this country. Lieutenant-General D'Hermann seems to enter most heartily into our views, and I form very sanguine hopes of receiving essential assistance from his valour and experience.

I understand that Sir Ralph Abercromby has made you acquainted with his having repulsed the enemy in an attack made upon him on Tuesday last. I proceed to join him at his quarters at Schagen immediately. I have had the pleasure to meet the Hereditary Prince of Orange here. His Serene Highness is occupied in arranging into corps a large body of defectors from the Batavian army, and volunteers from the crews of the Dutch ships of war which have proceeded to England. Every assistance shall be given to his Serene Highness to render these corps an efficient addition to our force.

FREDERICK.

The Right Honourable HENRY DUNDAS, &c.

ADMIRALTY-OFFICE—Sept. 21. 1799.

Copy of a letter from Admiral Lord DUNCAN, Commander in Chief of his Majesty's ships and vessels in the North Sea, to EVAN NEFRAN, Esq. dated the 19th instant.

SIR,

I transmit, for the information of my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a letter from Capt. O'Manney of his Majesty's sloop Buffy, giving an account of his having, with his usual alacrity, captured and sent in here Le Dragon, French lugger privateer, of 16 guns, belonging to Dunkirk. I am, Sir, &c. DUNCAN.

His Majesty's sloop, Buffy, Tarmouth
Roads, Sept. 18. 1799.

MY LORD,

I have the honour to inform your Lordship, that on the 16th instant, I perceived a lugger running close along the Dutch coast, and after a short chase drove her so close in shore, that she was anchored in the middle of a very heavy surf, about five miles to the southward of Egnout. Upon anchoring his Majesty's sloop close alongside of her the colours were struck; and though I scarcely entertained a hope of saving her, by the skill and good management of Mr Dewmat, the first Lieutenant, she was speedily got off. Ten of the crew of the lugger, to effect their escape, took to the boat, eight of whom were drowned by the violence of the surf. She is named Le Dragon, commanded by Citizen Liard, mounts two 12 pounders, and 14 long four-pounders, eight of which were from the coast of Norway.

I have the honour to be, &c.

J. A. O'MANNY.

Lord Viscount Duncan, Admiral of the White, &c.

Copy of a letter from the EARL of ST VINCENT, K. B. Admiral of the White, &c. to EVAN NEFRAN, Esq. dated the 17th instant.

SIR,

I enclose, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a letter. I have received from Captain Brenton, of his Majesty's sloop Speedy, giving an account of the capture of three Spanish armed vessels. I am, Sir, &c. ST VINCENT.

MY LORD,

I have the honour to inform your Lordship, that, on the 9th instant, in company with the Defender British privateer, of 14 guns, we captured the Spanish armed vessel, of 16 guns, after an action of two hours and a half. Upon seeing us they ran into a small sandy bay, five leagues to the eastward of Cape de Gatte, and moored in a close line, within about a length of the beach; we engaged them an hour and three quarters under sail before we could gain soundings, although not more than a cable's length distant from the rocks; but finding the enemy had more than the advantage, from our constant change of position, I determined to push for an anchorage, and was fortunate enough to effect one, within pistol-shot of the centre vessel; after three quarters of an hour close action, the Spaniards took to their boats, cutting the cables of two of the vessels, which drove on shore; they were, however, all brought off by our boats, under a constant fire of musquetry from the hills.

The privateer having but 22 men, was obliged to stand out to procure assistance from a boat she had in the offing, and could not reach the anchorage till the conclusion of the action. The conduct of her Commander was highly meritorious throughout, and must have considerably accelerated the event. The officers and men under my command behaved in such a manner as would have insured our success against a more formidable enemy.

The Speedy had but two men wounded, the Defender one, neither dangerous. We found two men dead on board the Spaniards; the remainder of their crews escaped on shore.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Philadelphia, May 6. 1799.

SIR,
The Government of the United States appears to be nearly in the same situation with regard to the Shawanese Indians that that of Canada is with respect to the Mohawks. The Shawanese wish the United States to make some alteration of their limits as fixed by the treaty of Greenville; and, at the same time, to confirm the sales of lands they have already made, and authorize future alterations. The American Ministers, on the other hand, are determined not to grant this favour, and are embarrassed by the persevering importunity of the Indians. Advice lately arrived from Fort Wayne, inform the Administration, that the Shawanese intend this spring to call a General Council of the nation, (composed of representatives from several tribes,) with a view to take such measures as may be thought best calculated to obtain some modifications of the Greenville treaty. And the information adds, that this idea was first suggested by the late Colonel McKee, Deputy Superintendent of Indian Affairs.

The Government consider this interference as unfriendly, and injurious to their interests, and a complaint has been made to me on the subject by the Secretary of State, with a request that I would make such representation of the matter to you as might produce a defeat of the project at present, and prevent all intervention of a similar nature in future.

I informed the Secretary of State that I could scarcely bring myself to credit the report respecting Colonel McKee; that at all events I could not conceive, that any thing unfavourable to the United States could have been contemplated by a public officer in the service of Great Britain; but that I would of course make the representation requested; that I made no doubt of its having the desired effect, because I was confident that you were sincerely disposed to ward off every incident that could give just cause of misunderstanding between the two nations.

The situation of public affairs in this country continues the same as at the date of my last letters, unless it be that the Government has given a new subject of provocation to France, by encouraging, in conjunction with us, the negro Chief, Toussaint, in measures which appear ultimately to tend to a separation of the Island of St Domingo from the mother country. Whether this affront will be pocketed by the Directory, I do not pretend to decide; but I cannot persuade myself that it is probable.

I have the honour to be,

With great truth and respect, Sir,

Your most obedient humble servant,

ROBERT LISTON.

The Honourable President Russell.

Philadelphia, May 23. 1799.

SIR,
My last having been entrusted to a person who was not going directly to Upper Canada, I am uncertain whether it may yet have reached your hands, and therefore take an opportunity of transmitting a duplicate.

On public affairs I have scarcely any thing to add. One step further on the road to a formal war, between France and the United States, has been taken by the Governor of Guadeloupe, who, in consequence of the capture of the insurgent frigate, has authorized French ships of war to capture all American vessels, whether belonging to Government or individuals. But war is not yet known. Perhaps the new explosion on the Continent of Europe may give them a degree of employment that may retard their decision.

In the interior of this country the declamations of the democratic faction, on the constitutionality and nullity of certain acts of the legislature, have misled a number of poor ignorant wretches into a resistance to the laws, and a formal insurrection. This frivolous rebellion has been quelled by a spirited effort of certain volunteer corps lately embodied, who deserve every degree of praise. But the conduct of these gentlemen having been shamefully calumniated by some of the popular newspapers, they have ventured to take the law in their own hands, and to punish one or two of the printers, by a smart flogging; a circumstance which has given rise to much animosity, to threats, and to a commencement of armed associations, on the side of the democrats, particularly the United Irishmen, and some apprehend that the affair may lead to a partial civil war. The portion, however, of the Jacobin party, who could carry matters to this extremity, is but small; the Government is on its guard, and determined to act with vigour; and I do not on the whole apprehend any serious danger.

I have the honour to be,

With great truth and respect, Sir,

Your most obedient humble servant,

ROBERT LISTON.

SEPTEMBER 23.

Our letters from Holland of the 15th and 16th relate circumstances alike important and unexpected. — The enemy have five fail of the line at Amsterdam! And the plan of our operations, or we greatly err, has been changed.

The formidable entrenchments thrown up at and about Alkmaar, under an impression that we had determined to make that city our direct approach to Amsterdam, rendering its attack as desperate as unnecessary, our army were preparing to advance by Medenblik, Enkhuyzen, and Hoorn towards Amsterdam; by which route they would have the support of our naval forces, which were ready to proceed under the immediate direction of Admiral Mitchell, to co-operate with them; all such vessels as drew too much water to cross the Pampus, having been ordered to proceed to and remain in the Vlieter.

The towns which it thus appears we had determined to attack, are no less strong when approached by land than Alkmaar; but they, like all other places on the Zuyder, are nearly defenceless towards the sea; and even Amsterdam is incapable, without the support of its shipping, to withstand a naval attack.

The French, it is stated, had determined to inundate the country, which they could accomplish when they pleased, and by that means effectually prevent the march of our troops; for, in the language of Louis XIV. on his looking at Bois-le-duc from the top of a neighbouring steep, "the fortresses of Holland are affailable only by an army of wild ducks." But what would be the consequence of such a measure, supposing that the Dutch, already sick of French connection, were freely to accede to it? The Republican, as well as the British army, would be compelled to shelter in the towns, which being destitute of provisions, and the country being in that case no longer able to administer to their support, they must famish; whilst, on the other hand, our marine would not only supply all the wants of our army, but progressively wait it to the several places we would wish to assail, even if famine did not compel the whole of them previously to surrender.

The enemy may, and probably will, partially inundate the country, and of the desperate measures of the French, by whom it is governed, we profess to feel no other apprehension for the event than from the trifling delay it may possibly occasion.

To the circumstances which we have thus related, and the opinion we have given, not more from our wishes than our unbiased judgment, we are happy to add the strong assurances of our correspondents, that the five Dutch ships would surrender, and that even Amsterdam would by this day be in our possession.

It is asserted, and from subsequent occurrences we are inclined to credit the statement, that in the attack of the British on the Helder Point, a greater number of Dutchmen were killed in flying from their post, by the French and Batavian patriots, than fell by the fire of the British. The joy of the pilots and fishermen, and persons of every description in the districts occupied by the enemy, at their deliverance, is said to be many of them declaring, that for several months past they have been nearly starving. Our troops, according to some letters, have experienced inconvenience on the same score; which, we doubt not, has ere now been obviated.

In the attack of our lines on the 10th at St. Martins and Patten, the French columns supported with great gallantry the most tremendous fire from our troops, whose steadiness is spoken of by their officers in terms of the liveliest approbation. The Dutch columns, supported less hearty in the cause, gave evident proof that they did not like it, particularly the right wing; but, though they did not suffer in the same proportion as the French, their loss was very considerable. General Du Monceau, who commanded the centre, was formerly a floe-cutter in Bruffels.

An expedition has been prepared in the Texel against Helvoet Sluys, the reduction of which place we hope will be communicated in the next dispatches from the continent. The Dutch have three ships of the line, with some powerful frigates, in every respect ready for sea.

All the English ships in the Texel, except the Isis, Junco, and another frigate, with some smaller vessels of war, were unmooring for the purpose of returning to England on the evening of Monday last, when L'Eclipe left them. The Russian transports were to remain there till the third division of the Imperial troops arrived, an event which we are led to believe has occurred ere this.

The appointment of Sir William Fawcett to the chief command of the army in the absence of the Duke of York, has occasioned the resignation of the Duke of Gloucester, Sir William Pitt, Lord Howe, and Lord George Lennox, all of whom were on the staff, and seniors to Sir William Fawcett, from the erroneous impression that the appointment was a reflection upon them. Sir William Fawcett is appointed commander in chief subject to the orders of the Duke of York, and he owes this appointment to the particular knowledge which his late situation enabled him to acquire of improvements in part begun by the Duke of York, and which promise the most essential benefits to the country.

We received letters from St. Marcon on Friday, by which we learn that the late popular commotions in Normandy had in a material degree subsided, but that the people waited with anxiety for a favourable occasion to shake off the oppressive and degrading tyranny under which they suffered.

Lord Bridport, with part of his fleet, passed Plymouth to the eastward on Friday morning, supposed for Torbay, where twelve fail of the line arrived on Thursday.

Society will participate in the high gratification we feel on learning that Captain Cooke, the gallant commander of La Sybille, is likely to continue one of the many ornaments and defenders of our country. That officer, whose death, from the accounts of the action in which he captured La Forte, appeared inevitable, and who was desperately shot through both the arms and the breast, had been conveyed to Calcutta, where he continued on the 20th of May in a state of rapid amendment; and with the prospect of a perfect, though perhaps not a speedy recovery.

We have much satisfaction to add that the Jupiter had run on shore at the Isle of France, the only Republican frigate in India. — The batteries protected her from total destruction, but she had bilged, and received so much injury as to be deemed unfit for further service.

By letters from New York, of July 23, we are informed of the death of Touffaint, the famous black general of St Domingo; a ship had arrived there in five days, from Bermuda, the governor of which island had informed the master, Capt. Mills, that he had received the intelligence by a schooner from Montego-bay, and that he had no doubt of its truth.

The armed schooner Nautilus, Capt. Robert Dixon, of New York, bound to Caracas, was captured by a French privateer within the limits of that island, after a severe engagement of an hour and a half. The privateer's men, after boarding, inhumanly murdered Capt. Dixon, the 1st and 2d mate, and two seamen, and desperately wounded four more. She was carried into Caracas, and on being demanded, the governor of that island refused to give up vessel and cargo.

This morning arrived a mail from Lisbon, brought by Falmouth by the Lady Harriot packet, in eight days.

This evening there will be a meeting at Lord Grenville's office, and at the Cockpit, Whitehall, of the Members of both Houses of Parliament, to hear the speech read, which his Majesty will deliver to-morrow from the Throne. — As the business of the ensuing session is intended only to obtain the consent of Parliament for further providing, as speedily as possible, a further augmentation of disposable military force, by enabling his Majesty to avail himself, for that purpose, of the service of volunteers from the militia to a greater extent than is authorized by the acts of last session, the speech is not expected to be long.

Sunday afternoon Major Dalton arrived at Mr Dundas's office, with dispatches from Holland. In the course of the day there were reports of another attack having been made, which, however, we do not believe to rest on any foundation.

There cannot be a stronger proof or confession of weakness and dependency on the part of the Republicans, than their resorting to the inundation of Holland, which, if it were the only penalty they had inflicted upon the United Provinces, must render their name and memory detestable for many years to come. The present generation, if they were to double the industry of their ancestors, can scarcely hope to recover one more their lands from the sea, or to remove the sands and choking stratum it will leave, and restore vegetation and fertility to their meadows.

Arrangements are making in India, in consequence of our late conquests. The six principal States are, the British, the Poonah Maharrats, the Berar Maharrats, Nizam Ally Subah of the Deccan, Mysore, and the Seiks. The allies of the British, who may be considered as dependant upon them, are the Nabob of Oude, the Nabob of the Carnatic, and the Rajahs of Tanjore and Tanjore. The extent of Tipoo's territory, from north to south is about 550 miles; its breadth, in the widest place (the north part of the peninsula) 330 miles; but proceeding to the south, it diminishes, till it ends in a point. Its area has been compared to that of Great Britain.

One or two eloquents have enlivened the tea-table of the watering places, and have been found very useful in the present scarcity of dry weather and day-light.

PLYMOUTH—Sept. 19.

Arrived the brig Sally, of Minorca, — No. 10. masted, from Gibraltar, laden with brandy, wine, &c. bound to Guernsey; failed from Gibraltar 27th ult. in company with eighty fail of merchantmen under the command of the Pallas, armed en suite, Capt. C. Edmonds, started company in a gale of wind on the 12th inst. a he entrance of the Channel. Yesterday, the Isidore Guernsey bearing E. by S. distant 18 leagues, she was chased by a French lugger privateer, in consequence of which she was obliged to bear away for this port, and thereby eluded being captured. — On coming into harbour this morning, she ran on a sand-bank at the entrance of Catwater, but is likely to be got off again, on the flood tide, without sustaining any material injury.

OLD BAILEY.

FRIDAY—SEPTEMBER 20.

JEREMIAH BECK was charged with assisting JANE GIBBS, in Kensington Gardens, on the 20th of June, and stealing from her 10 guineas, a half-guinea, and two seven shilling pieces. Jane Gibbs deposed, that she lived in Stafford street, she was a servant out of place. On the afternoon of the 20th of June she was in Kensington Gardens, sitting in the second summer-house. The prisoner came in, and after conversing with her, asked her to give him change for a shilling. She took out her pocket-book, in which were 10 guineas, eight old coin and two new, a crooked half-guinea, a crooked seven shilling piece, and a plain seven shilling piece, but no silver. He remarked, that she did not appear like a distressed girl, and asked her to take a walk, but she refused. The prisoner got up, and seized and threw her down on the bench, putting his knee upon her stomach. He took out her pocket-book, which she begged for God's sake he would return, as it was all she had. He took the money out of it, and ran towards Hyde Park. She followed, and a young man came up to her; she said, "For Christ's sake take that man in the blue coat, he has robbed me of all my property." She then fell down with fatigue and fright. The prisoner said, "A mad woman! a mad woman!" He was taken by a servant of the name of Winter. Captain Willis, of Kensington, and other persons, came up; the former said, if you have got the poor girl's money, let her have it, he put his hand in his waistcoat pocket, and took out 10 guineas, and the rest of the money and some silver, and fell on his knees to Captain Willis, and owned the robbery; he threw the money down, and he ordered a coach to be got at Kensington, into which the prisoner, with the prosecutrix and two other persons, proceeded to Bow-street. On the way, the prisoner said, my dear lady forgive me. She said she deserved some punishment. He asked the servant to let him go, but he said he could not; he would obey his master's orders; he however asked him what he would give to make it up; he replied all he had in the world, to avoid being brought to shame and disgrace; he was taken to Bow-street, and committed.

The prosecutrix was cross-examined by Mr Knowles—She said she had been two years and a quarter out of place; she put the money in her pocket the day she was robbed; went out for the benefit of the air, as she was poorly; was never robbed before, nor had accused any body; never was reproved in the gallery of the Old Bailey for behaving indecently; never asked gentlemen in the Park, or Strand, or Temple, for money; was a modest girl, and had never asked any gentleman for money; nor walked in the Strand, or Oxford street, to pick up gentlemen.

Mr. Brice, Under sheriff of Kent, stood up, and she was asked whether she had ever demanded money of him, she denied ever having seen him. She in the same manner denied ever having seen a Mr. Dickens, who was also desired to stand forward. She said she had the money left her by her sister, Sarah Willis, at Sunbury. She was asked a great many questions respecting this sister, and prevaricated greatly in her answers. Having closed her examination, she faintly, and was taken away.

Stephen Liddiard, coachman to Mrs. Reynolds, of Bedford-row, was in Kensington Gardens on the 20th of June, heard somebody call out murder, saw the prisoner run, and the prosecutrix running after him; she called out murder and stop thief. She told the witness the man had robbed her of all she had in the world—he pursued and lost sight of him for a moment, but saw him again walking as if he was quite innocent. He walked after him, took him, and accused him of robbing the woman—he said he had not been on that side of the garden; but afterwards he said he ran from her because she was

The farm, including the mill lands, contains about 100 acres, and between thirty and 40 acres of excellent croft land may be added, if required. The whole is in the best order, having long been in the possession of the deceased Mr Robert Renton the proprietor.
The new road presently making from Carlisle to Glasgow crosses the Bridgehouse road at Abington, about twenty miles west from Bridgehouse, so that a great increase of business may be expected by a tenant who has ability and means to push it.
The continual droves of sheep and lambs passing the door of Bridgehouse afford a ready market, at all times, for purchasing butcher meat.
The mill is likewise newly built on the most approved plan. It has a fall of 11 feet, and is adapted both for meal and barley. The proprietor has the entire command of the water of Lye, by which machinery to any extent may be driven.
If the person taking Bridgehouse does not wish to have the acres called the Greens and Temple Lands of Linton, and Linton Crofts, these will be set separately.
For further particulars apply to the proprietor at Bridgehouse, who will show the lands, &c. or to William Callender, writer, Gosford's Court, to whom offers in writing may be given.

SALE OF VALUABLE ESTATES IN THE COUNTY OF FORFAR.
To be Sold on Friday the 8th day of November next, within the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse in Edinburgh, between the hours of one and two o'clock afternoon,
THE LANDS AND ESTATES OF BALLINSHOE and CRAIGNATHRO, lying in the Parishes of Kirriemuir and Forfar, together or in lots.
The said lands of Ballinshoe, &c. lie contiguous and within two miles of Forfar and Kirriemuir. They consist of about 1400 acres of rich arable land, (800 of which are substantially inclosed and divided by stone dykes) 200 acres of planting, and about 500 acres of pasture and moss.
The moss affords not only an abundant supply of fuel to the estate but also for sale. There is likewise in these lands a bed of shell marle easily wrought.
The lands of Craignathro lie in the vicinity of Forfar, and consist of about 300 acres of good arable land, and they are inclosed and subdivided by good stone dykes.
The farm houses of Craignathro are lately built and slated. On these lands there is an excellent free-stone quarry, and a quarry of most valuable slate.
The lands of Craignathro will be sold by themselves in one lot; and if the lands of Ballinshoe, &c. are not sold in one lot, they will be exposed in the two following lots, viz.
Lot I. Comprehending those parts of the lands of Ballinshoe, lying to the eastward of the public road leading from Forfar to Kirriemuir.
Lot II. Comprehending the remaining parts of the lands of Ballinshoe, and lying to the westward of said road.
The present rent of Ballinshoe and Craignathro exclusive of the moss, marle, planting, and quarries, exceeds 1250 Sterling. There are also a considerable number of kaines of different kinds.
The public burdens are very moderate, being only 15 bolls, 9 pecks, 2 hieps meal, 7 bolls of bear, and 14*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* 10*d.* Sterling.
The whole of these lands are out of lease or nearly so, and very great rises of rent may be depended upon.
The lands of Ballinshoe hold feu of the Earl of Strathmore for payment of 7*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.* 9*d.* 12*d.* Sterling, which is included in the amount of the public burdens above mentioned.
The lands of Craignathro hold of the Crown, and are valued in the cess books at 233*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* Scots.
The teinds of the lands of Ballinshoe, &c. in the parish of Kirriemuir were valued in the 1634, and they are nearly exhausted by the late augmentation given to the minister of the parish.
It will be observed that the superiority of the lands of Ballinshoe, Woodhead, and Bariesdale, returned to a fifty shilling land of old extent, is presently for sale, which may be an object to persons intending to purchase the lands of Ballinshoe, &c.
Those desirous of further information, or of purchasing the whole of the above lands, or any of the lots, may apply to Charles Greenhill, Esq. of Fearn, Old Montrose, by Montrose, or to Thomas Duncan, writer in Edinburgh, who have powers to conclude a private bargain before the day of sale.

ESTATE OF CRAILING—ROXBURGHSHIRE.
THIS well-known, valuable, and compact ESTATE will be exposed to SALE by public roup (unless previously disposed of by private bargain), in John's Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, on Monday the 25th day of November, at six o'clock afternoon; if not then sold, it will afterwards be put up in lots. The present rent is 2127*l.* 3*s.* One of the principal farms is now out of lease, and two more will be so in 1800, on which a considerable rise of rent may undoubtedly be expected. The Estate consists of 2196 acres, and there is a very considerable quantity of valuable and thriving wood of various kinds, some of which, particularly near the house, is very old and large. The lands hold of the Crown, and are of sufficient valuation to afford twelve freehold qualifications; and being situated within three miles of Jedburgh and six of Kelso, possess great convenience for markets, &c. The great roads run from Kelso to Jedburgh and Hawick run through the middle of the lands. A considerable part of the purchase money may remain in the hands of the purchaser.
For further particulars application may be made to the proprietor at Cragling House, by Jedburgh, or to Robert Trotter, Esq. writer to the signet, Edinburgh, in whose hands the title-deeds, rental, plan, and measurements may be seen. The gardener at Cragling House will show the lands and boundaries.

These Lands consist of 621 acres, and amount of yearly rent to the sum of 548*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.* and will rise very considerably upon the expiry of the present leases, some of which have only a few years to run; and all the leases contain proper restrictions as to the management of the Farms.
The whole of the above Lands, excepting some small pendicles in the town of Whitson, hold of the Crown; and it is supposed that, upon a division of the valued rent, there will be sufficient for three freehold qualifications.
The Stipend and School Salary amount to 9*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* and there is an obligation from the heirs of Sir David Dalrymple of Hallies to relieve all the Lands of any future augmentation of stipend, except the small pendicles in Whitson.
For further particulars application may be made to Mr Alexander Low at Woodend, by Dunse, who has full power to conclude a private bargain.

The day of roup, and the lots into which the Lands are proposed to be exposed to sale, will be afterwards advertised, in case a sale by private bargain does not take place.
Andrew Paxton at Allanbank-house will show the Lands; and for further particulars, apply to Mr Robert Trotter, W. S. George's Square, Edinburgh, with whom a plan of the Lands is lodged.

Lot XI.—That other MEADOW PARK called LACHLEY MEADOW.
Lot XII.—THE MANSION-HOUSE and MAINS OF FRIARS CARSE, with the FISHINGS belonging to the Estate, and the piece of Land mentioned in Lot 9th, and also the piece of Land lying on the east side of the river Nith, set in tack to Mr Miller of Dalwinton, with the Services belonging to the whole Estate.

The Mansion-house and Offices are modern and in complete repair, and the Garden and Orchard are excellent.—The situation of the House on the banks of the Nith is delightful; and there are a great quantity of oak and ash wood, and several thriving plantations on the lands. The greatest part of the leases, which have been of considerable endurance, expire at Whitsunday 1800; and the advantages which the Estate derives from its vicinity to the town of Dumfries, and Closeburn and Barjarg lime-kilns, and from the great roads leading to Sanquhar and New Galloway, passing through it, are well known to be very considerable.
The estate will be sold altogether, or in the above lots, as purchasers may incline; and a Freehold Qualification in the county of Dumfries may be had with Lot 10th.
For further particulars apply to John Morine of Elliesland, who will show the different lots; and the articles of roup and title-deeds will be seen in the hands of John Morine, writer in Edinburgh, or William Laidlaw, writer in Dumfries, who have power to conclude a private bargain for all or any of the above-mentioned lots.

LANDS, COAL, AND HOUSES.
To be Sold by public voluntary roup, in the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse, on Wednesday the 20th day of November next, at two o'clock afternoon, if not previously disposed of by private bargain.
ALL and Hail the LANDS, COAL, HOUSES, and other Properties in the neighbourhood of Borrowstounness, which belonged to the deceased David Hardy, comprehending the Grounds of TEMPLE LANDS, and the CROFT LANDS, sometime since exchanged for the Lands called the GAWS.
These lands contain eleven acres or thereby, the former holding of the town of Linlithgow, for payment of a blench duty of one penny; the latter of the Duke of Hamilton, for payment of twenty pence yearly; the other burdens are proportionally small.
These grounds have several Dwelling Houses, and a complete Farm Steading upon them. They lie within a quarter of a mile of Borrowstounness, and are full of coal; the first seam of which is a split coal, of four feet thick, at the depth of 11 fathom from the surface; the second is also four feet thick, at the depth of 11 fathom; and beneath these, there are two or three seams, of four feet each.
The ground and coal rise from the Duke of Hamilton's pit, presently working. A highway passes through the ground, and there are roads in every direction, so as to answer country sale as well as exportation.
The ground is under lease for two years, with a reservation of power to work the coal.
To manufacturers it would be an inestimable property; and if any such incline to purchase, the coal may be sold separately.
The title deeds may be seen in the hands of Archibald Dundas, W. S. George's Square, who has powers to conclude a private bargain, and from whom other particulars may be learned.

SET OF THE LIGHT-HOUSE, &c. ON THE ISLAND OF M.D.
To be Let for two or three years from Whitsunday next, or for such a term of years as may be agreed upon,
THE DUTIES payable for the LIGHT-HOUSE on the ISLE OF MAY, with the Pasturage of the Island, and the privileges belonging thereto.—The Duties will either be let separately, or along with the pasturage, &c. as tenants may incline.
From the great increase of trade at Leith, since these duties were last let, and from the increase of trade at the other ports liable to the duties, a considerable rise of rent is expected.—The pasture of the Island will be let at the same time, with the fishing and other privileges; and the proprietor will give every encouragement, either by building houses for lighting the house by reflecting lamps, or otherwise.
Proposals in writing, specifying what rent will be given for a lease, if the landlord is at the expense of keeping up the light, or what rent will be given if the tenant is to be at that expense, may be transmitted to Mr James Walker, writer to the signet, between 1 and 12th November next.
The names of the offerers and their terms shall be concealed. None need apply who cannot find undoubted security for payment of the rent, and for performance of the other conditions of the lease.

SALE OF LANDS IN STRATHEARN.
TO BE SOLD,
By public roup, within the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, upon Thursday the 28th day of November next, between the hours of one and two o'clock afternoon,
THE LANDS AND ESTATE OF MILNEARN, lying in the parishes of Trinity Gask, and Madderty, with the whole Mills, Mouldures, and Seguels thereto belonging.
The situation of this property, on the north bank of the Earn, is extremely beautiful, the Mansionhouse is large, in good order, and fit to accommodate a genteel family, with garden and orchard well stocked with the best kinds of fruit trees, and offices which are newly built; and on the lands is a great quantity of valuable oak, ash, elm, and other trees of a great age, besides from 20 to 30 acres of very thriving plantations of various kinds of trees, from 14 to 30 years old.
These Mills, standing at a considerable distance from, and out of sight of the Mansionhouse, with a most extensive thrallage, have the command of the whole water in the Earn, which, besides the Corn Mills, is able to work many others, or indeed any weight of machinery, and that all the year round.
The lands are of excellent quality, mostly inclosed, and properly laid out, are within two miles of Auchtermuchty, a port town, and twelve of Perth, and lie in an excellent neighbourhood, and fine sporting country, where there are plenty of game, and the river Earn, one of the most beautiful and best rivers for fishing in Scotland, runs near by the house. In short a purchase in every way so desirable, is very seldom to be met with.
The progress of works are clear, which, with the rental, are in the hands of Thomas Miller, writer in Edinburgh, who will give every information necessary, and the proprietor will cause the lands be shown to any person who may be desirous to view them.

SALE OF LANDS IN EAST LOTHIAN.
To be Sold by private Bargain.
THE very valuable Lands and Estates of FANTASIE, HOUSTON, HOUSTON-MILN, LINTON, LINTON-MILN, EAST FORTUNE, MYRESIDE, and GOODFELLOWS LAND, lying in the county of Haddington, altogether in one lot; or, as several applications have been made for a division of the estates into lots, the proprietor will now treat for a sale thereof, in the following lots, viz.
Lot I. Comprehending the Lands and Estate of Fantasia, lying in the parish of Prestonhaugh, on the south side of the river Tyne, and the Lands lying between the river and the estate of Smeaton, all as at present in the occupation of Mr George Rennie, with the Waulmiln of Houston, possessed by Andrew Meikle, containing 354 A. 1 R. 9 P. of very rich land, together with the Salmon Fishings belonging to said lands.
Lot II. The Lands of Linton, with the Miln of Linton, at present under lease to Mr Rennie, consisting of 131 acres and 33 fells, with the Feus of Linton and Common belonging thereto, all lying on the north side of the river Tyne, and within the parish of Prestonhaugh.
Lot III. The Lands and Estate of East Fortune, Myreside, and Goodfellow's Lands, lying in the parish of Arbroath, and consisting of 675 acres, as at present possessed by John and James Howdens.
These Lands are delightfully situated in the richest and most beautiful part of East Lothian, and are in the highest state of cultivation. They lie about twenty miles from Edinburgh, and about five miles from Dunbar and Haddington.
The river Tyne divides lots first and second, on each of which there is a Miln, and a command of water, with an eligible situation for carrying on an extensive Manufacture, and the high road from Edinburgh to London intersects the property.
On Lot first there is a valuable Limestone Quarry, wrought by the tenant, affording an abundant supply of lime, not only for his own farm, but also for sale, and which the proprietor has also an unlimited power to work for his own account, and paying surface damages.
The greater part of the Village of Linton and a Distillery are situated on Lot second, and the proprietor, besides the 131 acres before mentioned, has right to a Common in the neighbourhood, containing 60 acres of very improvable land, subject to certain servitudes of pasturage.
The tack duty of the above lands, which is at present only from 900*l.* to 1000*l.*, consists chiefly of wheat, barley, and oats, payable either in kind, or in the option of the proprietor, at the rate of the highest fairs for the county of Haddington; but, as the subsisting leases were agreed on about forty years ago, and for grassum paid by the tenants, the present rent is no rule by which to estimate their value, as they would yield at least three times the present rent on the expiry of the leases.
On each of the Lots there are substantial Dwelling Houses and Farm Steadings, which belong to the proprietor, and there are several beautiful and most eligible situations for a Mansion.
It is supposed that there is Coal on each of the Lots, but particularly on Lot third, and were coals to be wrought on this estate, it would yield a very great rent to the proprietor.
The Lands hold of the Crown, and stand valued in the cess books at 219*l.* 18*s.* 4*d.* Scots, affording five freehold qualifications within the county of Haddington.
The title deeds, rentals, and plans of the estates may be seen in the hands of James and Alexander Frasers, writers to the signet; and any person desirous of purchasing by private bargain, may transmit their offers to Alexander Shand, or Alexander Crombie, advocates in Aberdeen.
